PAYNE HAD QUIT MORPHINE.

Died in Terrible Agony From Sudden Abstinence.

HAD USED 100 GRAINS A DAY.

AN UNPARALLELED BATTLE OF WILL OVER THE DEMAND FOR THE DRUG.

REFUSED TO TAKE ONE GRAIN.

Prominent Physician Prefers Death to Further Enslavement by His Morphine Habit—Died Like a Hero.

Dr. W. E. Payne, a member of one of the oldest families in Eastern Missouri, and one of the best known physicians and surgeons, died in horrible agony at the Mayfield Sanitarium Friday night.

Wasted to a mere shadow, his whole frame quivering with excruciating pain, convulsion followed convulsion until the sufferer sank lifeless at the very feet of the skilled but helpless physicians.

In death the pinched and drawn features tell the agony of his last hours.

Dr. Payne's death marks an unparalleled victory of will over body, mind over matter. As the end approached none knew it better.

His medical knowledge told him he had but to put forth his hand to be assured that a single dose of the drug he handled so bravely in health would banish the pain that shook every nerve, and bring the restful sleep he so much coveted. Yet in the face of the rapid advance of death the indomitable will prevailed and the resolution made scarcely a month ago remained unbroken.

Dr. Payne was brought to the Sanitarium Tuesday evening, by Dr. H. T. Colman of Fentonville, personal physician.

Dr. W. H. Mayfield, who received him, said he was then in a state of collapse, but had been able to continue his efforts to withstand the journey. That evening, as a result of frequent application of narcotics, the patient had a laughing spasm.

For two days he rallied in spite of his colic. All efforts of the physicians to quiet him were futile, and he emerged from that quiet in a condition of exhaustion.

The terrible pains returned and for two hours longer he tossed in the greatest agony.

Morphine was suggested, but Dr. Payne forbade its use, and chloral was substituted, with the result that the remedies of the night before failed to give comparative comfort.

Wednesday morning he was awake early, and appeared to be much refreshed.

He was dressed, put on his coat and insisted upon getting up. He was dismused from this resolve and he ordered a barber to be summoned, saying he wanted a shave.

STOLE OVER A MILE OF WIRE.

Thieves Rob Postal Telegraph Company Poles.

EIGHT STRANDS WERE TAKEN.

THE ST. LOUIS SERVICE DEMORALIZED FOR TWELVE HOURS OF A BUSY NIGHT.

OFFICIALS ARE INDIGNANT.

Strenuous Efforts Made to Catch the Thieves and a Vigorous Prosecution Promised by General Manager Daugherty.

The Postal Cable Company has been robbed of a mile and a quarter of copper wire, valued at $80. The wires were working from the St. Louis office east and south over the Eads bridge. At 10 o'clock Thursday night an operator discovered he had a short circuit and reported a wire down. In a few minutes the same thing happened to another operator, and before half an hour had passed the night chief had a report that eight wires were down. All messages were then flashed through the two loops.

The indicator showed that the wires were down somewhere north of the Merchants' Bridge, on the Illinois side. At this season of the year tramps cause telegraph companies much trouble. Occasionally they set traps on poles and break them off, and a network of wires and the wires go down.

When the eight wires were lost it was thought in the St. Louis main office to be another case of tramps and a burning tree.

At 7 o'clock Friday morning the line gang went out to repair the break.

North of the Merchants' Bridge, along Gabaret Island, the workmen found that the wires had been cut, from pole to pole, and carried away. Nothing was left but the poles and the glass insulators on the cross-beams. Twenty miles, the distance between the poles, had been taken off, and in all 80 pounds of wire, equal to a single wire a mile and a quarter long, were stolen.

The line gang had no time to repair the break, and had to send back to St. Louis for a supply. This caused a delay, but fast work was done by the linemen, and the early morning strain was taken from the wires. The line was put back into service and recriminations to such an extent that the whole town came to know of the bit.

Dr. Payne was brought to the Sanitarium Tuesday evening, by Dr. H. T. Colman of Fentonville, personal physician.

Dr. W. H. Mayfield, who received him, said he was then in a state of collapse, but had been able to continue his efforts to withstand the journey. That evening, as a result of frequent application of narcotics, the patient had a laughing spasm.

THE COTTON LIARS AT LARGE AGAIN.

The two "cotton liars" have broken loose again in the South. One raises cotton; the other does not. The first liar sees only "death, hell and the grave" in his cotton patch, from July till December. The other is always talking about "what a rip-roaring crop the farmers are going to have this year." They always break loose in the fall. It is hard to tell which is more obnoxious.

"All men are liars," said the King who ruled the ancient Jews (His name was David, you'll recall, if Scriptures you peruse); "All men are liars"—in the spring, summer, winter, fall, But oh, the cotton liars are the biggest ones of all.

They lie about the crop itself; they lie about the price. No matter what the others say, when it comes to carrots, one will loudly swear There ne'er was such a crop before;

One says we're in it not at all; the other wealth can see, But both, alas, are liars of the thirty-third degree. One says we're broke, the other flush. We ought to wring their necks, So does their oratory all the patient country vex.

HE WANTS TO HANG.

CARR, THE MURDERER OF HIS DAUGHTER, ANXIOUS TO MEET HIS FATE.

The Prisoner's Attorney Asks the Court to Hasten the Case, and Makes No Defense.

LIBERTY, Mo., Nov. 13.—The case of William Carr, who confessed to having drowned his 3-year-old daughter, Bella, in the Missouri River, was begun this morning. The court-room was crowded and many men lounged about the jail-yard. No defense was attempted, Carr's lawyer, appointed by the court, urging that the State hasten the prisoner's fate. Judge Broadus reserved his decision until Monday. When led back to his cell Carr said, despondently: "I'd rather they'd hang me and get rid of me right away than to endure another day of this."

SPRANG INTO THE FIRE BOX.

Horrible Method of Suicide Chosen by Locomotive Fireman.

MANDAN, N. D., Nov. 13.—Joseph Williams, fireman of the Northern Pacific transcontinental train, committed suicide by jumping into the fire-box of his engine. Before the engineer could pull him out his head and shoulders were consumed.

WEDDED ON A ROCK.

Romantic Marriage of U. G. Endsley and Miss Pauline Ruess.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Nov. 13.—W. G. Endsley and Miss Pauline Ruess were married this morning in a romantic way. They secured a minister, took him in a skiff and rowed up the river to Cape Rock and were united in marriage on top of the famous rock known to rivermen as Cape Rock. Endsley and his bride are printers and they did their courting on the rock on which they were married.

IT IS NOT the cost of the wire and the work of replacing it that stirs us up, but the thought of the robbery.

"That was an outrage," said Mr. Daugherty, "and one we don't propose to submit. We will prosecute to the limit the company every cent it has. If we can find the thieves, or one of them, we will make an example that will not soon be forgotten."

"This is a bad place where we have had to submit to an outrage of this kind."

"A year ago, thieves cut our wires in the same way and stole about $1000. This is the same way and it is a terrible sight to see a man in agony as he rolled in the paroxysms of pain."

The physician hastened to his side, but one convolution followed another with such rapidity that the scene was hideous and the fourth, and most terrible of all, death relieved the sufferer.

Dr. Daugherty told Saturday the story of Dr. Payne's brave fight to keep his resolution of abstinence, as related to him by Dr. Colman.

Dr. Payne was suffering from the consequences of morphine, when he was received here. Dr. Colman said Payne had frequently taken morphine to relieve his day-to-day burden of his overworked body. For the last few years his practice had taken every man in the city, and the amount of money probably have been thousands of dollars. Fortunately the work was done during the day, and there was little time for it.

"It is my opinion that the work was done by junk thieves from this city, who crossed the river in skiffs. It was an easy matter for them to get in and out, and the fence, and no junk dealer who buys it can fail to know that it is stolen property. The price would be high for the wire would not be one-quarter of the value."

MISS HANNER CONVICTED ON THE SECOND TRIAL.

The Handsome School Teacher of Red Oak, Iowa, Finally Found Guilty of Forgery.

A BANK WAS DONE OUT OF $75 IN A PECULIAR MANNER.

THE YOUNG WOMAN SET UP AN ALIBI AS A DEFENSE.

This Was Believed by the First Jury, but Was Eventually Knocked Out.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

RED OAK, Ia., Nov. 12.—After being out eight hours, the jury in the case of Anna Hanner, charged with passing a forged note for $20 on the Bank of Elliott, obtained about $75 on it, brought in a verdict of guilty. This was the second trial of the case. The jury in the first trial disagreed, standing 8 to 4 for acquittal.

Owing to the attractiveness of the defendant and the peculiarities of the case the legal proceedings have excited the keenest interest. Miss Hanner is a school teacher, and it was her woman's habit of dropping things that led to her arrest and the pressing of the ugly charges against her. The features of the case as presented in the trial are as follows:

On May 15 at about 12 o'clock a neatly dressed young woman stepped into Henry Monker's bank at Elliott and wanted to dispose of a $20 note. She said her mother was ill at Atlantic, about thirty miles distant, and she wanted the money that she might go to her sister, who had the note was not properly endorsed. The banker refused to buy it, and, having never seen her before, inquired where she lived.

She informed him that she was stopping with Henry Reynolds, a wealthy farmer living about two miles southwest of Elliott. The kind-hearted banker then suggested that she get Mr. Reynolds' name on a note and he would advance a reasonable amount. About an hour later she appeared with a note payable to Henry Monker and signed Mrs. R. Crommer and R. H. Reynolds. Seven dollars and twenty-five cents were paid on the paper-note, and she went her way. Later she came back and got the $20 note, which, she said, she had mislaid. This note was drawn in favor of the jury.

DOUBLE UMPIRE SYSTEM.

Adopted by the National League at Its Meeting in Philadelphia.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 12.—The presence of mind of a motorman on a Brightwood trolley car last night averted an accident in which the loss of life would probably have been inevitable. The car was crowded with passengers, among whom was Gov. Mount, returning to his home in Indianapolis. As the car approached the Hegeler. The talk yesterday was that the charge would be changed from highway contempt. Then he will be placed under large bond to appear at the trial of Martin Emsley on Dec. 9 and testify about the robbery of $60 at Meramec Highlands on the night of June 1. If he fails to give bond he will be sent to jail and has been there ever since.

The first trial was largely attended, two-thirds of the audience being from St. Louis, including five business men, including Henry Monker, the banker, who identified her. In addition they offered in evidence copies of the "Daily Herald," testifying that there could be no doubt that the genuine and forged signatures were written by the same hand. It was also proved that Miss Hanner hired a horse and buggy the morning of May 14 and kept it until she was arrested the next day.

The defense was an alibi, and it seemed to have an effect with the first jury, but it did not with the second, which found her guilty.

A GALLANT MOTORMAN.

Quick Action Saved Many Lives, Including That of Gov. Mount.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 12.—The League this morning adopted the double umpire system, and also adopted a resolution presented by Mr. Brush of Cincinnati, having for its object the suppression of rowdyism on the part of players. For instance, if four umpires are on the field, one player found guilty of this offense after a full hearing will be expelled from the game and shall not be eligible to reinstatement.

BASE BALL DEALS.

Hallman of St. Louis Swapped for Schoch of Brooklyn.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 13.—The National League magnates met early this morning and every effort will be made to put into effect a plan which will be the object of closing the annual meeting by evening. One of the important questions to be disposed of is the much-talked-of proposal to give credit to the clubs that joined to the double umpire system. In a general way the magnates express themselves in favor of the double system, but it will not be open to two or three of them to make a deal.

Damage Suit Compromised.

MOBERLY, Mo., Nov. 12.—The damage suit of S. S. Sanford vs. Washash Railroad Co. for damages in the sum of $20,000 has been compromised while riding on a Washash road. The railroad company availed itself of the offer and the car proceeded when within a few feet of the crossing of the Washash River. After the car had an engine toward his car at the rate of thirty miles an hour. An application of the street car brakes would have landed the man on the track just in time to avoid being crushed by the engine. Realizing this fact, Motorman Abrahams applied the full current of the car jumping the track at a bound, but the man over the car, and the car was entirely severed by the engine. When the passenger realized their escape they were quickly assisted by the men. Mount praised the motorman for his prompt action.

Object to Hungarian Law.

VIENNA, Austria-Hungary, Nov. 12.—The Burgomaster and Council of this city have resigned, owing to the impending introduction of Hungarian law here. Flume has hitherto been under law.

GRIFFO AND LAVIGNE.

A San Francisco Club Offers a Five Thousand Purse for a Fight.

Young Griffon says that a match is pending between him and Young Lavigne. He says a San Francisco club offered $5,000 for a match between those two. He says that after his match with Tracy here he will forego limited round bouts, and will devote all his time to finish bouts in the future.

BANNER OF FIAT MONEY.

Iowa Populist Organ Furls the Free Silver Flag.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 13.—The Boise Sentinel, official organ of the People's party of the State, announced in its last issue that henceforth it will fly the banner of fiat money instead of free silver at 16 to 1, the attainment of the latter being considered too remote to having that desired effect. The editor, Mr. George H. Heit, has assured a controlling interest in the Sentinel.

RIVAL DEALERS' LIVELY FIGHT.

The excitement between them. The expected explosion occurred Friday afternoon. Cook Bros. had bought a lot of poultry in the market, and was taking them to town by the former owner. It is said that George Carroll met the farmer a few miles out and interfered. The farmer repented of his bargain with Cook Bros., and sold the lot to Carroll. Charley Cook followed the farmer all the way, and the two men fought him down. Carroll knocked him down with a rail. Last night, after Cook returned to town, the Cooks marshaled a force of 150 men, and the Farmers' Sentinel, St. Louis, Missouri.

MR. LLOYD'S SILLY BILL.

Ex-Speaker Lloyd of the House of Delegates evidently thinks that St. Louis has no municipal problems to solve and that the Municipal Assembly has no serious work to do.

It is evident that the ex-Speaker thinks that franchises are granted just as the people want them granted; that the streets are in perfect condition; that the public institutions do not require attention and that all the legislation required for the efficient and economical management of the city and for the comfort and satisfaction of citizens has been accomplished; in short, that the business of the city had been thoroughly and properly transacted.

We say it is evident that this is the belief of the ex-Speaker Lloyd because he proposes to take up the time of the Municipal Assembly with the consideration of an ordinance prohibiting the playing of Rugby football. If Mr. Lloyd thought the Municipal Assembly had serious work to do he could hardly bother himself or the Assembly with such aading child's play.

The report that the franchise grabbers intend to wait until the storm of popular indignation blows over, makes it the more desirable that a great mass meeting, to express the will of the people once for all, be held. Franchise grabbing must be smashed for all time.

THE PINGREE PLATFORM.

In his New York address on Municipal government, Gov. Pingree of Michigan added to the story of his own remarkable achievements in Detroit some excellent counsel with regard to franchise granting and Municipal government. The meat of his talk is embodied in the following paragraph:

As to a remedy for those evils, my experience has brought me to the conclusion that the streets of a city belong to the people, and that no Mayor or Common Council has a right to barter them away. The remedy against many of these evils is municipal ownership and entire abolition of monopolies, or if monopolies exist, which do not enjoy public favor, their absolute control by and dependence upon the city.

This remedy will not only solve municipal problems, but will bring agencies of commerce under proper selection. We are juggling the sovereign power of the people to speculators. My experience is that those who stand foremost in the synagogue of a Sunday and are enraged the rest of the week in bribing aldermen or getting up stock jobbing schemes to defraud the widows and orphans, are the most dangerous members of society.

Persistent work on this platform has accomplished wonders for Detroit. The same excellent results can be accomplished here in St. Louis if the people take up the matter and enforce honest, sensible methods.

In his ingenious defense of the North and South grab, Promoter Blessing fails to explain why, in order to give railroad facilities to a few outlying sections, it is necessary to have a blanket franchise on everything in sight, with unlimited speculative privileges.

THE HOLY KISS.

The customs of one nation seem strange to the people of another. In a cosmopolitan country like the United States we become so used to the oddities of others that we put little attention to them. We expect strange actions on the part of men reared in environments different from our own, but when citizens of our own class and breeding indulge in eccentric practices it causes us to wonder, and we attempt to analyze their motives. Such is the case with the "Evening Lights," a new set which has gained a great deal of popularity in Southern Indiana. The members invariably greet each other with "a holy kiss" and indulge in other unusual practices all of which will be fully described only in to-morrow's Sunday Post-Dispatch.

There will also be a thrilling story of a native American woman who, at the age of 100 years, burned herself to death, in accordance with an ancient custom of her people.

The least interesting story will be that of a four-footed beast which was initiated as a member of a St. Louis secret society, by special dispensation from the national headquarters.

"The Confessions of a Missouri Queen" is an article which will interest people of every age. It consists of excerpts from the private journal of the wife of a high

State official, and contains much valuable public and personal history.

An estimate of the character of the late Henry George by one who knew him best will be read with eagerness by all admirers of the great single tax advocate.

But these are only a few of the attractive features which will appear exclusively in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, the people's paper. The opalescent colors and high-class photographures of the Woman's World will charm the ladies, and the eight-page Comic Section, equally rich in its line, will furnish food for mirth for a week. In addition to the fully illustrated Magazine Section will be the news of the day—all the news—crisply and vividly set forth. Nothing will be lacking to maintain the reputation of the Sunday Post-Dispatch as the most popular newspaper in the Mississippi Valley.

Park Commissioner Ridgely and the B. P. will have good popular support in their fight to prevent the turning of Forest Park into a "show the chutes" resort for an amusement corporation. The Municipal Assembly will hardly dare attempt to give legal form to that sort of robbery.

OVERPRODUCTION.

The account of the operations of the Strawboard Trust is an object lesson on the conditions of industry, as well as the effect consumers under the trust system. The Strawboard Trust finds that in one day, with modern machinery and thorough organization, it can produce twice as much as the country can consume in the same period. Hence, an apparent overproduction is brought about.

The overproduction is, of course, only apparent because it is caused by the inability of the masses of the people who constitute the home market to purchase and consume more than their income permits. Their income, in turn, is limited by the extent and power of consumption of the "market," of which they are a large part. Thus we have a vicious circle. The consumers must use up the so-called overproduction which their labor has produced.

FILLEYS BOMBSHELL.

From the St. Joseph (Mo.) Gazette.

Boss Filley has uttered a warning and prophecy. He denounces Hanna as a false god who will lead Republicanism to destruction, and he declares that if the Ohio cities be not promptly dumped there will be days of woes for the G. O. P. next year, and in as well.

From the Clinton (Mo.) Democrat.

Chauncey L. Filley is in the bitterness of his heart, publishes over his own signature a letter denouncing Hanna and his methods and criticizing McKinley severely. With Filley and Maj. William Warner detailed while doing service with his band in Springfield, Mo., two or three months ago?

SWIFT JUSTICE METED OUT.

Three Bad Boys Sent to the Reform School in Short Order.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 13.—A remarkable criminal case has just been disposed of in the Circuit Court now in session. Within a space of time exceeding less than four hours Young George Moore, Frank Smith and Ed Foltz committed three criminal offenses within a distance of twenty-five miles; highway robbery, forgery and horse-stealing. They were captured and sent to the reform school, all being too young for the penitentiary.

Melancholy young folk should go and see Mrs. Terry of Philadelphia, who is merry at 105. When a person of that age can see where the laughs come in, the rest of the world ought to behold a little joy.

There were eighty-four common jailbirds among the members of a Chicago political convention. In some places this would be considered quite an extensive poultry show, but it created no surprise in the Windy City.

If a creased policeman or a baggy one would keep a little space on the sidewalk for passers where a throng of yaps stand gaping at some new thing in a show window it would help matters down town considerably.

Ex-Speaker Lloyd of the House of Delegates has introduced an ordinance to prohibit the playing of football, and this only a day after Hanna has gotten even with his enemies for the touch-down they scored on him two or three months ago?

TURF NOTES FROM NASHVILLE.

The Race Meeting There to Be Continued Until Nov. 30.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 13.—This is the fourteenth day of the Tennessee Breeders' Association's final meeting at Cumberland Park. The meeting has been the best that Nashville has had, over 1,000 head of thoroughbreds being quartered at the track. The city is filled to overflowing with turkeys and yellow fever refugees.

The present National League of Arbitration, consisting of Messrs. Young, Byrne and Watkins, was appointed to communicate with Mr. Temple of Pittsburgh, the owner of the cup, concerning the desire of the club to keep the cup, and to come to a disposition of the cup.

The proposition from the minor leagues which modifies the rules relating to the cup, was accepted by the committee, and recommended by the National Board of Arbitration was adopted. It provides that no player in the Eastern or Western Atlantic Leagues shall be drafted by the major leagues until he shall have been two years with the minor league club, and that not more than one player in each club may be drafted from any club of these leagues.

The present National Board of Arbitration, consisting of Messrs. Young, Robinson, and Bradburn, and Mr. Bruce, who is chosen by lot, will consist of Messrs. Von Neumann, Von der Ahe, and Bradburn, Earl Wagner, of Washington, Pugh of Louisville, Von der Ahe of St. Louis and Watkins of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Hart, president of the club, presented a check to the Harry Wright Memorial Association for $54, to make up the deficit in the fund, and the headquarters of the club will be in the hall at 329 Easton avenue, where there will be a mas... accept, and the members will be admitted to the games to continue for three days, and with a consolation purse for beaten dogs.

McDonald, Philadelphia, of a monument to the veteran player and manager, the total cost of which was $175.

Of these, Johnny Huffman discounts his competitors with nine racers to his credit. Clarence O'Fallon has caught on with John Dugan, the manager, and with Harry Duke, J. J. Bagley with John Bown and G. Scott with Eddie Brittan; but the others, Charles DeWitt, Charles Rowe and Charlie McCafferty have only been to the one time.

The eight boys, on Mr. Huffman and Billy Boathman, can now only the pleasure of defeat.

Boathman's luck, to use his own words, is "up." Ransom is alive, but against it with better class horses and Full Hand, a filly of some promise, has gone straight to the top.

The class of 600 horses here has easily in Enchanted, Harry Duke and Whetmore, Our Old Chieftain, and in George B. Cox, Our Old Chieftain, and in the same division, Enchanted established the track record for six furlongs, 1:33%, with 100 up.

With the exception of the one meeting together at this distance, a race worth of a far more preeminent meeting will ensue.

In Whetmore, Johnny Huffman has a horse, while in the other, we can see at any distance from six furlongs to a mile and an eighth in any old kind of going.

George is a good colt at seven furlongs or a mile, but too slow starting into his stride for a shorter distance. The Steamer is a good horse, and the September 1st, he was further represented by Col. H. R. Hart, who came to the rescue of C. C. Maffett's stable and Billy Boathman, who is at St. Louis, was better known as the president of the Tum Champs Club than as a patron of the turf. Hart, however, is not here solely for his health. Monday, he engineered a coup on Jolly Son—the 40 to 1 winner at the meet on Sept. 1st.

The coup did not go through, and Mr. Boathman is going around with an enchanted pocketbook.

J. C. Carter, who has officiated here as president of the local Frisco last night, His late associate, R. L. Rainey, has been promoted to the position while May Overton for his assistance.

Concerning the closure of the meetings, Clarence O'Fallon and most of the owners mentioned above, will ship direct to San Francisco.

THE CANADIAN WHEELMEN.

TORONTO, Ontario, Nov. 13.—A special meeting of the Canadian Wheeling Association has been held here to honor the port of Geo. H. After a lengthy review of the coast cities, Mr. Orr recommends that the members of the California Association of Cycling Clubs, Mr. C. C. Maffett, that this step was absolutely necessary to enable the Pacific Coast clubs affiliated with the C. C. M. to compete in racing meets. The association decided to accept this recommendation.

LITTLE TIM HURST.

Secretary Muckenfuss Says He Will Not Manage the St. Louis Browns.

The story that Tim Hurst was to manage the St. Louis Browns next year came from the fertile brain of Harry Weldon of the Cincinnati Club.

A dispatch from New York, received last night, and signed by Secretary Muckenfuss, states that the Browns have signed Hurst, or that they have any designs on that player.

The story is that St. Louis had signed him away from the Browns, and which appears in the Cincinnati Enquirer of yesterday.

The Browns will not be on the League staff of umpires next season, and it is generally known that the pugnacious Timothy Hurst asked Earl Wagner, President of the club, to look out for him for a job as manager. Yesterday, he wired to Hurst to speak to President Von der Ahe, and an offer to take charge of the St. Louis Club at a good, fair price, was made to Hurst to-morrow. He will likely accept, and if so, bring the St. Louis team out of its bad rut.

"President Von der Ahe intends to go to Europe for a long trip next season, and Hurst will have full control."

STABBED WITH A SPEAR CANE.

Mrs. Lizzie Kleiner Hurt by Many Sword Thrusts.

MAN BROKE INTO HER ROOM.

SHE ALLEGES THE DEADLY AS-SAULT WAS MADE BY JACOB RAEDER.

NECK AND HANDS HACKED.

Mrs. Kleiner Had Refused to Serve Again as the Housekeeper of the Man Who Tried to Kill Her.

Mrs. Kleiner is at the City Hospital suffering from half a dozen sword thrusts, which she says were made by Jacob Raeder. She says Raeder made a determined effort to murder her at 1 o'clock Saturday morning.

The woman thinks she was fortunate in escaping with her life. She has four stabs in her neck and two in her hands. One of her hands is fearfully cut and torn. While the man was attempting to run through with his sword cane she grasped the blade in her bare hands, and though she injured her hands she gained sufficient time to get on her feet and dash out of doors.

Clad only in her night gown and with her hair streaming down her back and blood flowing from the wounds and staining her clothing, she ran screaming into the Seventh District Police station and begged Sgt. Schoppe to protect her.

She told of the desperate assault she had been made on. A policeman was sent to search for Raeder and she was sent to the City Hospital, where her wounds were dressed.

Mrs. Kleiner says she lives on the third floor at 234 Manchester avenue. Raeder lives on the second floor at the same number. She found him in the two rooms he had been asleep for some hours," she told a reporter. Saturday morning, "when there was a knock at my door. The knock was so loud it awakened me instantly, and I cried out, asking who was there. I recognized Raeder's voice and told him that we must speak. He said he would come in. He replied with an oath that he would come in, whether or not. Then he began to break in, but did not dream of his break, lay down and knock to my bed. Presently the door gave way with a crash. I had left the lamp burning low enough for me to see him plainly."

"He had a cane in his hand, but the cane had a spear in it. He pulled the cane apart and could see the spear. It was more than a foot long."

"The blade was perfectly formed, being the thinnest. Favouring the weapon above his head, he approached my bed and cried: 'I am going to kill you.'

"I didn't say anything, but sprang toward me. He stuck the spear at me and it caught me in the side, but did not make a sound. I screamed and started toward me again and made another gash in my side. As I jumped from the bed he struck at my throat. The spear just grazed me and made a hair scratch."

"As he made another effort to stab me I grabbed the blade in my hands. It was then I found that he was sharp, but not at all the point. I clung to the blade with all my strength and he tried to wrest it from me."

"Then I released my hold on it and at last had an opportunity to escape. I ran down stairs and through the front door at once. I had no clothes on, save my night gown, and ran across the street and ran toward the police station."

"They sent an officer to look for Raeder. He did not know whether they found him or not."

"Raeder wanted to kill me because I would not keep house for him. I do not live with him now, but he treated me badly. I could not stand it any longer and I took our two children and knew that I could make out on my own."

"Raeder was then living at 276 Eugenia street. I had a friend living at 275 Eugenia. That was five months ago. My friend, Raeder and I told me that he wanted a house and I helped him to get one. I must have stayed there two months."

"Then some things happened and I knew I could not stay there any longer. I told him so and he made me take my two children. He threatened and persuaded, but I left him so far away that he could not get along without me. I always refused to talk to him and not talk to him. He would get mad and not talk to him. He was going to do, but he never did, and he left me alone that night."

Mrs. Kleiner is 23 years old, German and is not displeasing in appearance. She is of medium height of good figure, has black hair and eyes. She is a widow and tells her story in a straightforward manner.

The police have not arrested Raeder, but he is sought. He works for the Palace Laundry.

Dr. Sutter says Mrs. Kleiner's injuries are not serious.

Bromoline will positively cure a cold in twenty-four hours. No cure no pay.

ASSAULTED DURING THE NIGHT.

Man Traveling on a Flatboat Badly Hurt by Robbers.

C. M. Douglas arrived on a flat boat Friday night and fled up at the foot of Hennont avenue. He is in a serious condition from an assault near Alton, Ill.

Accompanied by his wife, they started to drive to St. Louis from Ashton, Ill. Wednesday evening when they landed near Alton, Illinois, two robbers with pistols visited him, beat the man severely and robbed him of $30. Douglas went to the North End Dispensary for treatment.

RECALLS HER MOTHER'S STORY.

Mrs. Jennie Stiepel Balz Is Suing for Divorce.

TIRED OF THE BAKER'S BOY.

HER MOTHER'S COMPLICATED AF-FAIR WITH HARRY ARMIT-AGE AND HIS WIFE.

FAMILY PRONE TO ROMANCE.

Old Mrs. Stiepel Impersonated Another Woman, Then Had Her Servant Impersonate Her to Deceive the Deserter Mrs. Armitage.

Mrs. Balz is the daughter of Mrs. Augusta C. Stiepel, Mrs. Stiepel was Dr. Robert Julian Stiepel.

On the afternoon of Nov. 21, 1890, Dr. Stiepel was driving past the corner of Jefferson and Lafayette avenues, when he was shot from ambush. Two balls from a revolver entered his head. They were extracted and the injuries were not considered serious. But he steadily became worse and died six days later, Nov. 27, 1890.

The body was buried, but the climax of the newspaper stories caused the Coroner to disinter the remains. Traces of arsenic were found in the stomach. The verdict was that death was due to arsenical poisoning. Who administered the poison was never discovered.

In the latter part of November, 1890, Harry Armitage, son of a man considerably disappeared. He had sent his wife of six months to Chicago, with directions to furnish a flat and await his coming.

The body was buried, but the remains disappeared. A woman called at Mrs. Armitage's flat, in Chicago. She said she was Mrs. Maria Haffner, a St. Louis widow. She claimed that Armitage had been a deserter from the Army and was Mrs. Stiepel.

The young woman was invited to stay at the flat that night. She did so and slept in the same bed with Mrs. Armitage, but did not know she was a deserter from the Army.
